INVESTMENT COMMENTARY

The global equity market initially rose in July but declined in the second half and ended the month essentially flat. The Q2 earnings season has been volatile and it is now becoming apparent that consumers across most geographies in developed markets are beginning to feel the pinch of higher interest rates and higher price levels. While inflation has begun to show signs of subsiding in a number of countries, the picture still remains mixed across the globe; for example, Mexico actually saw its annual headline inflation rate accelerate to well above 5%. The global benchmark provider FTSE Russell downgraded Pakistan from emerging market to frontier market status.

SKAGEN Global outperformed its benchmark index in July. Some of the hyped and arguably overpriced AI stocks in the market no longer seem able to walk on water, thereby partly alleviating the relative performance headwinds the fund has faced due to the high concentration of a small number of large-cap stocks in the index that we have not owned due to excessive valuation. We would not be surprised to see significant stock price declines in names that have ridden the AI narrative too far. At the same time, many of the fund's undervalued holdings have delivered solid quarterly reports underpinning the strength of the various investment cases.

The fund's top three absolute performers were DSV, Brown & Brown and Canadian Pacific. DSV noted that its organic growth strategy is beginning to gain traction while the insurance broker Brown & Brown once again reported stellar quarterly numbers. The freight railway Canadian Pacific continues the integration story and sizeable buybacks are getting closer with debt paydown on track.

The three worst performers in absolute terms were Edwards Lifesciences, ASML and Dollar General. In an uncharacteristic manner, the medical device company Edwards Lifesciences posted disappointing sales figures in its key division that took us and the market by surprise given recent communication from management. ASML pulled back in response to rumours of US export restrictions to China.

We will comment on portfolio changes at quarter end. We stay reactive to new data points and evolving fundamentals while keeping our eyes on the horizon.

Historical returns are no guarantee for future returns. Future returns will depend, inter alia, on market developments, the fund manager's skill, the fund's risk profile and management fees. The return may become negative as a result of negative price developments. There is a risk associated with investing in the fund due to market movements, currency developments, interest rate levels, economic, sector and company-specific conditions.

RISK PROFILE

We have classified this product as 5 out of 7, which is a medium-high risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium-high level. Other risks not included in the summary risk indicator but materially relevant: Event risk, liquidity risk, operational risk, counterparty risk, derivatives risk. Be aware of currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above. This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.
