Investeringsstrategi

SKAGEN Vekst investerer i selskaber, som er undervurderede i forhold til forventet afkast og vækst. Fonden investerer primært i Norden og sekundært resten af verden. Fonden er velegnet til investorer med en investeringshorisont på mindst fem år. Investeringsbesvær tegnes i de respektive fonde og ikke direkte i aktier og andre værdipapirer. Referenceindekset reflekterer fondens investeringsmandat. Fordi investeringsfonden er aktivt forvaltet, vil porteføljens sammensætning afvige fra indeksets. Fondens investeringsmandat er ændret med virkning pr. 01.01.2014 fra, at fonden investerer mindst 50 % af sine midler i Norge til, at fonden investerer mindst 50 % af sine midler i Norden. Dette betyder, at afkast før ændringen blev opnået under andre forudsætninger end i dag.

Monthly commentary, February 2024

Both the European and US markets reached new all-time highs in February driven by strong corporate earnings. Global stock markets continued moving higher despite inflation continuing to surprise on the upside, driving interest rates higher as investors pushed back their expectations of rate cuts. SKAGEN Vekst also posted a solid absolute return, although the fund lagged the benchmark due to a lower weighting in the large US IT stocks that continue to drive the overall market.

The fund's strong result was helped by the continued focus in Korea to improve corporate governance, which drove the strong share price performance of some of our holdings, including KB Financials, Hyundai Motor, SK Square and Korean Reinsurance. Despite the strong performance, we still see a 50-100% upside in these stocks in a scenario where capital allocation improves to international standards. The US IT company Broadcom was once again among the largest positive contributors in February driven by continued market focus on companies with exposure to AI, following another strong earnings report from Nvidia. While Broadcom continues to trade at a significant discount to other AI related stocks, we have started to reduce our position, as the absolute valuation is getting closer to our estimate of fair value. Continued policy efforts in China to help boost both the economy and the local stock market also drove the strong share price performance of our holdings including the oil company CNOOC and insurance company Ping An. We still see significant upside in these stocks even without any improvement in the underlying economy.

UPM was the weakest contributor to performance in February. The company reported Q4 numbers that were in line with expectations, but the market was disappointed by the production guidance for 2024.

Maintenance shutdowns in both Paso de los Toros and Olkiluoto 3 took the market off guard but followed normal procedure according to the company. We deemed the 10%+ drop in share price on the reporting day to be excessive and added to our position. Another weak performer in February was Yara. The Q4 report was solid and clearly exceeded expectations, but the stock price fell back in the second half of the month most likely driven by falling commodity prices. The Danish logistics company DSV also had a difficult month following a soft earnings report for Q4 2023 combined with a conservative guidance for the coming year. We continue to see decent upside in the stock at these levels, particularly as the company now has the balance sheet to start buying other companies again. DSV has an outstanding track record in M&A and has created significant shareholder value over the years. We used the weakness in the share price to add to our position.

We entered one new position in February, making a small investment in Lerøy Seafood. Lerøy is one of the world's largest salmon farmers with main operations in Norway and a smaller presence in Scotland. In addition, the company owns the largest fleet of fishing trawlers in Norway. Biological challenges have been a recurring headwind over the last few quarters, putting downward pressure on the share price. We don't believe Lerøy will become a best-in-class operator but at our entry point of around NOK 40 per share, we think the market is too pessimistic and see a decent upside if the company merely returns to historic margin levels. Strong salmon prices ahead should also benefit the stock. Given the continued strong share price performance from companies with exposure to AI, we reduced our positions in our two US IT hardware companies Applied Materials and Broadcom. We also used the strong performance in Novo Nordisk to reduce our position in the Danish pharma giant.

Overall, we still favour attractively priced companies within the financial, industrial, and energy sectors. These are also sectors where earnings expectations and valuation will not be unduly hurt in an environment where inflation does not return to the abnormally low levels we saw in the aftermath of the pandemic. Following the recent gains, we again see substantial downside risk in a lot of highly priced growth companies, particularly in the US. If the current consensus of falling inflation and interest rates proves to be right, we expect the fund to lag the overall market, but still provide a decent absolute return in 2024. However, if inflation continues to surprise on the upside, the fund should provide much better downside protection than the benchmark – similar to what we saw in 2022.
